A black and white photograph showing a wide river valley. In the foreground, the riverbank is covered in a large amount of debris, including logs, branches, and rocks. Several thin, vertical poles or posts are stuck in the ground. The river flows through the middle of the valley, with some small structures or buildings visible on the opposite bank. In the background, there are several mountain peaks, some of which are covered in dense evergreen forests. The sky is overcast with clouds.

A black and white photograph showing a wide, rocky landscape. In the foreground, there is a muddy, rutted path or dry riverbed. The middle ground is covered in a dense field of rocks and debris, including what appears to be a large log or pipe lying horizontally. In the background, there are several mountains, some with sparse vegetation and others more densely forested. The sky is overcast.

A black and white photograph of Wilson Reservoir. The reservoir is a large body of water in the middle ground, with a long, low dam on its right side. In the background, a large, rugged mountain with patches of snow or light-colored rock rises above a forested ridge. The foreground is filled with dark evergreen trees and shrubs. The sky is overcast and hazy.

A black and white photograph showing a wide, calm body of water, likely a river or lake, under a bright, hazy sky. In the foreground, a dirt path leads from the bottom center towards the water. A dark-colored dog is standing on this path, facing away from the camera. To the right of the path, there are some low-lying, scrubby bushes. In the middle ground, on the left bank of the water, a person stands near a horse-drawn cart or wagon. Another person is visible further to the right on the same bank. The far side of the water is a flat, open landscape that stretches to a distant horizon.
