Leave Amsterdam for the Hague at 11 o'clock - stop at Leerdam a little while - drive about the place - saw some beautiful on the trees - will look out for the "peace of Leerdam" but does not find it until the next afternoon at the Hague in the Queen's palace! - Meet Baron (of the Haags) Palace - in the train. We reached the Hague at 4 o'clock - when we drove out to the Queen's Palace.

Tuscan glass in abundance - but according to my views of beauty exceeding ugly and gaudy looking. Handsome columns - Majestic halls some tralls decorated on all sides by painting.
